At Collins SBA, working with a Financial Adviser is about much more than managing money—it's about building a secure and meaningful life tailored to your vision.

(2) Who is responsible for these financial services?

As the holder of an Australian Financial Services Licence (AFSL), SBA Advice Pty Ltd (SBA Advice) is responsible for the financial services we provide to you. SBA Advice acts on its own behalf when these financial services are provided to you. In relation to the financial services offered in this Financial Services Guide (FSG) SBA Advice as a holder of an AFSL, does not act on behalf of any person or licensee. SBA Advice is only responsible for the services offered in this FSG.

(3) The services we can provide.

Our AFSL permits us to deal, and provide financial product advice, in the following areas:

- Basic deposit products;
- Non-basic deposit products, such as term deposits;
- Derivatives;
- Debentures, stocks or bonds issued (or proposed to be issued) by a government;
- Life products including investment life and life risk insurance products;
- Interests in managed investment schemes including investor directed portfolio services and MDA services;
- Retirement savings accounts;
- Superannuation including self-managed superannuation funds;
- Securities, including direct equities; and
- Standard Margin Lending facilities.

(4) We can provide specialist advice and services in the following areas:

- Wealth creation
- The use of Managed Discretionary Account services
- Retirement planning
- Estate planning
- Wealth structuring and tax planning
- Aged Care

Not all of our financial advisers can advise on every one of these areas, and some may be restricted to providing advice and services in only some of the above areas. The FSG Part 2 explains who your adviser is, and the areas in which they can provide advice.

Additionally, our advisers are all registered to provide Tax (Financial) Advice services. Based on the information collected from you, your adviser will consider the tax consequences of the financial advice they provide. However, this financial advice will not include a full assessment of your overall tax position or your tax liabilities and obligations. You should seek specialist tax advice from your accountant.

Should you require personal risk insurance advice, we will refer you to SBA Insurance, who are our specialist risk insurance advisory partner.

(5) Services that cannot be provided under our AFSL include:

- Personal advice relating to acquisition, development or disposal of direct property. Advice relating to direct property acquisition or investment will only relate to the investment strategy of an investment in property, such as asset sector allocation, cashflow and capital expenditure budgeting.
- Credit advice, such as the arranging of a loan or the taking of credit. We may refer you to a broker that can assist with such matters.
- Accounting, audit and taxation services. If you require these services, we can refer you to Collins SBA Accounting (SBA Financial Group P/L)

(6) How will we provide our advice to you?

Personal advice will be presented in a Statement of Advice (SoA). This advice sets out your personal circumstances and your needs and objectives, and then explains the resulting strategy and recommendations.

The SoA will also, among other things, tell you about:

- The basis on which the advice is given;
- The cost of the advice including the fees payable and any commissions we may receive; and
- Any associations we have with financial product issuers or other parties which may have the potential to influence the advice we give you.

If there hasn't been a significant change to your personal circumstances any further advice may be provided to you in a written Record of Advice (RoA), otherwise a complete record of the advice given will be kept on your file. You can request a copy of any RoA by contacting us using any of the contact details on page 1 of this document up to 7 years after the advice was provided to you.

Where our advice recommends a financial product, we will provide you with a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS). The purpose of a PDS is to assist you to make an informed decision about whether to acquire the financial product, as it contains a description of the product features, risks and benefits, and information about your cooling-off rights (if applicable). You should read and understand the PDS prior to making a decision about any product. If you have any questions, these should be raised with your financial adviser.

(7) Giving us instructions

If you want to make changes to your financial plan or provide other instructions, you can contact us using the details in this Financial Services or by contacting us here: Generally, you will need to give us instructions in writing for example, email or a written letter or another method as agreed with your financial advice specialist.
